

If local programming supports free market and does not break any laws, I fully support other stations like XM radio providing alternative local programming. I do not see this being any different than national TV providers like cable and satellite providers providing local programming. Unfortunately, when manufacturers we eventually put out of business with the advent of automobiles...many technology advances have provided quality of life improvements. Just because a new technology provides an alternative delivery of radio programming does not make it illegal.

Keep free trade the cornerstone of our capitalistic nation!!!
Sincerely, Ron Abernathy
